THE OLD PARTY COLLAR.

"If you have been wearing a party collar, throw it off and be a man."

How dear to the hearts of the old party bosses

Are those that follow them up to the polls; They fall into line and never once falter

To vote as he tells them, pawning their souls;

How fondly he watches the votes they are casting

As he leads them up by the rings in their nose.

The old party collar, so peculiarly fashioned, The longer you wear it, the tighter it grows;

They wear the old collar, the mortgage-bound collar,

The g. o. p. collar with rings in their nose.

How pleased is Shylock with the people's submission,

For they bow down their heads inviting the yoke;

They shoulder the saddle and tell him to ride it.

The more he can rob the greater the joke. He tells them that tariff is just what is needed

To make them prosperous, happy and free. And then they all shout for higher protection—

There is none so blind as he that won't see;

While they wear the old collar, the debt-burdened collar,

The high tariff collar, in bondage they'll be.

But the day is now dawning, the people are waking,

And no longer submit to be led by the nose;

They see that the bosses have kept them in bondage,

And constantly robbed them of shelter and clothes.

They will rise in their might and throw off the shackles,

Stand in their manhood, independent and free;

The Alliance has shown them the strength of combining;

Now, in the future, no slaves will there be. They will throw off the collar, the slave-binding collar.

The old party collar and ever be free.

—C. S. White, Halstead, Kansas.

B. F. DAVIS: Sir—After some delay I will again write a short letter and ask you to have the same published in THE HERALD.

Friends of the Alliance and laborers cause, after the late political contest just passed, I want to say to the readers of THE HERALD that it has been a triumph of the people.

Yes, a triumph of the people, a ratification of the constitution, in as much as it is a victory over monopoly and over men who do not intend to work and want to live in the shade.

What must I say, then, in regard to those who followed the men around that defended us, for the purpose of jumping on them? We ought to tell them to go to monopolies, corporations and capitalists for friends.

The time has come when we must take men to record. All that made them fight the constitution was because its guarantees promised the people future existence contrary to the wishes of a favored few.

Their exponents were hirelings in the service of those who want all that which has not raised its head from beneath the clouds.

We invite all good people who love their country, to come forth from the old schools of selfish thought and let us range together for life, for prosperity and peace.

Omer, Ky. TOMS BRANCH.

Deafness Can't be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
